It was after ten o'clock at night and the jury had just been discharged.
A stout jurymen came over to the

"Yes.""Would you mind putting in a line

MOVING STATE FAIR

MANY FAVOR A NEW LOCATION.

Consensus of Opinion Seems to be that People in General Would be Benefitted by Selecting a More Central Location in the State.When the question of the removal of the state fair from Milwaukee was up before the State Affairs Committee in the Senate Wednesday, a delegation of one hundred people from the Fox River Valley came down to engage to present arguments in favor of the removal. Strange to say, not a single man was present from Milwaukee authorized to present an argument against the bill. The Fox River Valley delegation was composed of businessmen and farmers from Fond du Lac, Dodge, Winnebago and Outagamie counties.The committee pointed out very clearly before the committee that Milwaukee had failed to respond to make the fair a success either from a financial or agricultural standpoint. It was cited that Milwaukee had chased it around from pillar to post and finally got it located outside the city where it is very inconvenient to a majority of the fair patrons. It is located upon lands that are too valuable and that Milwaukee real estate dealers are demanding estimate prices for additional lands.
Also that Milwaukee people allowed the fair property to go for foreclosure at one time.That the fair should be taken from Milwaukee was made very plain for several reasons. The farmers contended that it is no longer profitable to exhibit stock or produce there for the lack of interest. They claim that Milwaukee people are not interested in their wares. That they prefer to show their exhibits to exclusive rural people. Some of the leading stock breeders have not made exhibits at the state fair for several years past, yet they exhibited at the county fairs and all other state fairs. They give as their reason that they obtained profitable results from all other state fairs except our own state fair. Another reason for Milwaukee failing to make itself heard with the state fair was the fact that a certain amount of the fair visitors went to the fair for a dual purpose—that is combining, seeing the metropolis and the state fair at the same time. Thusly the fair was deprived of its full share of gate receipts.
Another charge made was that Milwaukee department stores and the others held out extraordinary attractions for the visitors which detracted from the fair.One gentleman brought out the fact that farmers in and around Milwaukee were not particularly interested in a state fair in that they had no lands for sale or any pecuniary interest whatever. What the fair has been, has been what the up-state farmers have made it. The very atmosphere around Milwaukee has been cool towards the fair. It was argued that one of the larger and most successful fairs were conducted in smaller cities nearer the rural people.A good point in favor of removal was scored when it was cited that if the fair was moved nearer the center of the state in a rural belt the farmers of the state from the great new north would double and triple their exhibits showing to the world the possibilities of northern Wisconsin. In this connection it was stated that the state fair is a whole, would be a remarkable rewards from the sale of wild lands and the promotion of agriculture in this state. It is an undeniable fact that the upstate farmers and the farmers that are most interested in the building up of a good state fair.It is very evident that the interests of the state would be greatly enhanced if the state fair was centrally located in an agricultural region. It is the only way that the greatest amount of good can be accomplished for the greatest number of people. The present site in Milwaukee could be easily transferred to a point in the state fair fully equipped into any city upstate. The site for the new fair would be gladly donated by several cities.
Besides if the fair is to stay in Milwaukee it will cost nearly half that amount to buy a few more additional acres adjoining the present grounds at the present prices for real estate in the locality.The question of central location and the accessibility in the central portion of the state is apparent to all. It is a question that concerns the farmers of the state, and now is the time for those who are interested to let their wishes be known.Charles Nuber, who has had charge of the Bijou theatre for some time past, has left the city, and Charley failed to leave his address with some of the people about the city who are interested in his welfare.

CIRCUIT COURT IN SESSION

Commenced in This City on Monday
With a Shorter Calendar
Than Usual.Circuit court convened in this city on Monday and the indications are that the session will be shorter than usual, as there are fewer cases on the calendar. There are only three criminal cases, they being:
State against Henry Pribbanow, habitual criminal.
State against Charles Gohde, abandonment.State against Jos. Dillinger, abandonment.
Pribbanow pleaded not guilty to the charge against him, but the district attorney contended that he was not competent, and asked that a commission be appointed to examine him as to his sanity.Gohde pleaded guilty to abandonment and the court ordered that he pay his wife the sum of $15 per month toward her support.The case of the state vs. Jos. Dillinger was put over until the fall term of court.It is expected that the city cases will be taken up this morning, these being brought about by parties who are not satisfied with the manner in which the benefits were assessed in the widening of Oak street. It is expected that one or two of these cases will be tried out and the others settled in accordance with how these come out.St. Patrick's Party.
The Independent Order of Good Templars have made arrangements to hold a St. Patrick's party next Monday evening, March 17th, at Foresters Hall.Members are requested and all the friends are invited to come and spend the evening. This is an open meeting and a good time will be had by all who attend. Come and enjoy yourselves.Frank W. Galkins, Non-Partisan Can-

RATES ARE AGAIN LOWERED

Grand Rapids Electric Company Makes Another Cut of Ten Per Cent.At a meeting of the directors of the Grand Rapids Electric Company on Saturday it was decided to make another cut of 10 per cent in the lighting and power rates of this city, which means that hereafter patrons of the local company will see the lighting service at 8 cents per kilowatt, while the power rate will be 4 cents per kilowatt.This is getting the rates down about as low as they can be found anywhere in the state. There are a few cities that had a better rate at one time when they generated the current by the use of a Diesel engine, but it is understood that these concerns have been obliged to raise their prices owing to the advance in the price of crude oil.The Diesel engine uses crude oil for fuel and when the oil sold for about 15 cents a barrel, one of the engines could be operated very cheaply, but since the price of oil has been boosted to about double what it was before, these engines are put on about the same basis as steam engines.The directors of the local company are of the opinion that the rates can be lowered still more, and continue to give the people excellent service.
However, they are of the opinion that the cut in the future should be made more on the power rate, so as to induce manufacturers to locate here on account of the cheap power that can be obtained.

PROBE ASKED INTO
STUDENT CONDUCTRESOLUTION BY SENATOR CULBERTSON CAUSES STIR IN LEGISLATURE.

IMMORALITY IS ALLEGATION

Measure Demands That Committee of Senators Confer With State Board of Regents on Charges Made Against University Scholars.

Madison — Senator Culbertson sprang a surprise on the senate in offering a resolution for the appointment of a senate committee for a conference with the board of university regents now in session in this city in regard to immoral practices or illegal proceedings alleged to be in vogue in Madison as regards the student life. Senator Culbertson, when interviewed in regard to his resolution, said he intended to refer to the reports that some saloons in Madison frequented by students kept open after midnight and that students drank there after midnight. He said it was his idea that the senators might confer with regents to see if they could not see to it that the midnight closing law was strictly enforced in Madison.

Excise Bills Fare Badly.

On an adverse report of the committee on excise the assembly defeated by a close vote the bill forbidding a saloon within one mile of any incorporated village or city in the state. This bill applies even to Milwaukee, and if it had become a law would have created a dry zone just outside the limits of Milwaukee a mile in diameter. Other bills on the excise question which were indefinitely postponed included: The anti-treating bill. The bill providing that a property qualification must be necessary for signers to petitions to create a dry territory by referendum and that the decision should be left to the free holders and the voters of the district desired to be dry. Providing for the abolition of all saloon licenses and thus forbidding the legalizing of the saloon business. The bill limiting free lunches to crackers was saved by the statement of Assemblyman Hurlbut, that he intended offering a substitute absolutely forbidding a free lunch of any kind.

Changes Rumored for Barbers' Board.

A conference between the members of the state barbers' examining board and Gov. McGovern has been followed by a rumor that the executive had asked for the resignation of two members—President Henry Heine of Hoodsburg and Secretary and Treasurer J. L. Shanks of Eau Claire. The state board of public affairs is said to have discovered, through its accounting department, a discrepancy of about $500 on the board's books, and that upon this fact being communicated to Secretary Shanks the discrepancy was made good. It is not charged that this shortage was due to any fault other than bookkeeping methods used.

MRS. PATZER TOPLEAD GUILTY

Charge of First Degree Manslaughter to Be Entered Against Waupaca County Woman.

Stevens Point—Mrs. Allen Patzer, who murdered her husband on the evening of January 6, by striking him on the head with a piece of stove wood, when he was seated at the table eating his supper, will be arraigned before Judge Park at Grand Rapids for sentence. Mr. and Mrs. Patzer lived on a farm near Mahanaw and were the parents of thirteen living children.

She has been in the Waupaca jail since the second week in January following the murder, but has now consented to go before the circuit and enter a plea of guilty to manslaughter in the first degree. The penalty is not more than ten nor less than five years in the state prison.

To Name Town for Wilson.

Madison — Assemblyman Daniels has introduced a bill providing for the creation of two new towns in Rusk county, one to be named Wilson, in honor of the president.

Short Circuit Burns Man.

Kenosha—Two men were seriously burned and the entire light and power service of the city was disabled when a short circuit caused a flaming arc in the plant.

Resthaven Will Reopen.

Waukesha—Resthaven, Waukesha's half million dollar hotel, will be given a chance to redeem itself within the next two years. It having been closed for that period by two prominent Chicago hotel men.

Pauper Freezes to Death.

Janesville—The frozen corpse of James Doyle, an inmate of the county farm, was found by boys four miles north of the city. Doyle had been missing two weeks.

Find Dog Had Rabies.

Neenah—Reports from Madison state that the dog causing a scare here was affected with rabies. All the persons bitten will now be forced to take the Pasteur treatment to save their lives.

To Index Laws of Session.

Madison—H. E. G. Kemp of Oregon, chairman of the republican county committee, has been engaged to index the laws during the present legislative session.

Attacked Boy With Knife.

Coudersville—Erwin Ackley, aged 12, was seriously injured at the village of Winter when he was attacked by a young man named John Ketz. The assailant, who claims to be subject to epileptic fits, was placed under arrest.

Secretary of Labor—William B. Wilson of Pennsylvania.

With one or two exceptions, these men have attained considerable national fame, and all of them are admittedly able.

Mr. Bryan's Career.

William J. Bryan has been so much in the public eye for a good many years that a sketch of his career seems almost superfluous. Born in Salem, Ill., in 1856, he was graduated with highest honors from Illinois college at Jacksonville in 1881 and received his master's degree in 1884.

In 1882 he was given the degree of LL. B. by Union College of Law, Chicago. After practicing law in Jacksonville and Lincoln, Neb., he served as a member of the 52nd and 53rd congresses. Having written the "silver plank" for the Democratic national convention of 1896 and made a sensational speech, he was nominated for president, but was defeated by William McKinley. Nominated again in 1900, he was again beaten by McKinley, and then established the Commonwealth and made a tour of the world. Nominated a third time in 1908, he was defeated by W. H. Taft.

In 1884 he married Mary Elizabeth Baird in 1884. He has done much lecturing and written several books.

McAdoo the Tunnel Builder.

William Gibbs McAdoo, though a lawyer by profession, is known to most people as the builder of the great system of railway tunnels of New York city. He was born near Marietta, Ga., in 1863 and was educated at the University of Tennessee. In 1885 he was admitted to the bar.

Josephus Daniels.

Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, is the one newspaper man given place in the cabinet. He has also been active in politics and is the member of the Democratic national committee for North Carolina. Mr. Daniels was born in 1862 at Washington, N. C., and began his newspaper career at the age of eighteen as editor of the Wilson (N. C.) Advance.

In 1885 he became editor of the Raleigh State Chronicle, which nine years later he consolidated with the North Carolina and the News and Observer.

Franklin K. Lane.

Franklin Knight Lane has been a member of the interstate commerce and the University of Wisconsin. He married Miss Helen Beall of Austin, Tex., in 1895.

William C. Redfield.

William C. Redfield has just completed his first term as a congressman, but he has been prominent in the politics of New York for a good many years. In 1902 and 1903 he was commissioner of public works for the Borough of Brooklyn. In private life he is a manufacturer of ventilating and heating apparatus and engines.

Mr. Redfield was born in 1858 in Albany, N. Y., was educated in the schools of that city, and removed to New York in 1877 and to Brooklyn in 1883.

William B. Wilson.

Pennsylvania's representative in the cabinet is William Bauchop Wilson of Bloomsburg, named for secretary of labor. He was born in Blantyre, Scotland, in 1862, and came to this country in 1870. The next year he began working in the Pennsylvania coal mines, and from early manhood he has been actively interested in trade union affairs. For eight years he was international secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America. He is now engaged in farming. Mr. Wilson has been a member of the last three congresses, representing the Fifth district of his state. He is married and has nine children.

Story Lesson on Elephant.

Animal intelligence and faithfulness are recounted for study by Man.

The elephant is said to be the most intelligent of all animals; certainly few four-footed creatures have served man so ably and faithfully. How courageous and loyal they can be is strikingly shown by an incident related by H. Perry Robinson in his book "Of Distinguished Animals," says the Youth's Companion.

A native Maharatta prince was engaged in a fierce battle with his enemies, and the struggle raged furiously about the standard-bearing elephant. At the moment when it was ordered to halt, its mahout was killed, but still the elephant stood firm, and the standard continued to fly.

Accordingly the soldiers of the prince, unwilling to be outdone in courage by an elephant, rallied, and in turn drove the enemy back till the tide of battle swept past the rooted elephant and left it, towering colossal among the slain.

The fight was even, and then they would have had the elephant move from the battlefield, but it waited for the dead man's voice. For three days and nights it remained where it had been told to remain, and neither bribe nor treat would move it. Finally they sent to the home village on the Nerubudda, a hundred miles away, and fetched the mahout's little son, a round-faced, plump child. Then, at the hero of that victorious day, remembering that its master had sometimes, in a brief absence, delegated his authority to the child, confessed its allegiance and, with shattered battle harness clanging at each stately stride, swung slowly along the road behind the boy.

Early Matrimonial Experience.

Always on Time.

"I suppose your husband detests New York?"

"Yes, indeed. But I've never known him to miss the train when he had any occasion to go."

Had Lost His Partner.

"Why do you continually slap yourself during your turn?"

"This monologue used to be a sketch," replied the vaudeville, "and to me the jokes don't seem to be so new unless somebody gets biffed."

"I was thinking of that sweet perfume."

"I know your thoughts were a scent's worth."

Close Proximity.

May we venture to offer the hint that the phrase "close proximity," which seems to have acquired a certain vogue, is slightly tautologous?

OUR DRINKING WATER.

In Monday's issue of the Grand Rapids Reporter there was published the analysis of the drinking water as furnished by the Grand Rapids Water-Works Co. to consumers in this city. It was not a fully complete analysis of the water but was to show the bacteria it contained. The analysis was furnished by the State Hygiene Laboratory, Madison, Wis. There were five samples reported on:

1. Water from Dr. Pomainville's office—725 Bacteria to C. C.
2. Water from Ice—35 Bacteria to C. C.
3. Water from Pumping Station—116 Bacteria to C. C.
4. Water from Church's Drug store—3500 Bacteria to C. C.
5. Water from the river—2700 Bacteria to C. C.

The first three items were evidently water from the springs on the east side as furnished by the Water-Works Co., and they show that spring water is very good, very pure and wholesome about as good as one will find anywhere in the United States. Samples No. 4 and No. 5 were evidently ordinary river water and contained on an average, 3100 Bacteria to the C. C.

Now, in order that everyone may understand what 3100 Bacteria to the C. C. means, I will explain that the letters C. C. stand for cubic centimeters, which is the fluid measure adopted in the study of chemical analysis.

1 C. C. in volume is equal to about 33 drops. Take a teaspoonful of water—this is about 100 drops. So a teaspoonful of water is equal to about 3 C. C.

The Bacteria in the river water here at Grand Rapids averages 3100 Bacteria to the C. C., or 9300 Bacteria to each teaspoonful.

What is Bacteria? Bacteria is a disease, germ and generally speaking, is in all drinking water. Drinking waters, however, containing more than 1500 Bacteria to the C. C. are not safe, and the water should be boiled.

Herein I differ from the State Board of Health, who will allow twice as many Bacteria to the C. C. and then pronounce the water safe for drinking purposes. Where do Bacteria originate? In the case of the Wisconsin River—the sewage, (by this I mean the foul matter carried into the river from the sewer from villages and cities up the river) such as Biron, Whiting, Stevens Point and Wausau.

In addition to Bacteria in the river water there are chemical refuse, allowed to flow into the river from the Whiting paper mills, in the shape of chlorine, chloride of lime, and other blanching compounds. For instance a solution of sulphate (presumably sulphate of soda) is let in. At Rothschild sulphate or sulphurous acid is let in and at Wausau sewage, etc. Now it is possible then, that the Wisconsin river at Grand Rapids can be pure and wholesome?

About thirty years ago I analyzed the Wisconsin river water and took the sample at the wagon bridge. I found at that time that the river water was about as pure and wholesome as the spring water we now have, but then the cities up river were small and there were no paper mills.

To pump river water into the mains is to mix an impure water with a pure water and make both unfit for use.

In summer the springs do not give enough water for general use and it is the same in winter. It is no use to hide the fact from ourselves. The river water is no longer fit for domestic purposes; not even if it is boiled, for boiling does not eliminate the chemicals which it kills the Bacteria.

Cities Made To Order.

As compared with the normal process by which towns come into being, their development proceeding spontaneously and by slow stages, it is interesting to note the occasional deliberate construction of large seaports, and other towns, complete and ready for occupancy in a few years time; the motive being sometimes political and some times commercial. There is the remarkable case of Port Sudan, founded a few years ago by the British authorities on the west coast of the Red Sea.

A similar undertaking, though with different aims, was the building of the German seaport of Tsingtau, China; a city, notable among other things, for the fact that no American atlas-maker discovered its existence until 10 years after its foundation. In contrast to these successful experiments in city-building, we learn that the port of Huguochow, which was laid out in the spring of 1909 on the shore of Yehli bay, 10 miles by water from Macao Harbor (China), has by no means realized the hope of its creators that it would speedily become a formidable rival to the neighboring ports of Macao and Hong Kong.

It was built on up-to-date lines, with telephone, water-works, electric light, tramways, etc., but it has not succeeded in attracting trade, and its present population is only 2,000.

Looking Ahead.
It's a world of promise restful. That the orators reveal. As each one brings forth a cheerful. Of choice patriotic zeal. We will quite forget the present. Any scenes that now dismay. Will be sojourn and pleasant.

So they say, Some day.

We won't have any bosses. And we won't have any loots. There won't be any losses. To the financiers astute. By the jammers plump and frisky. Who in Wall Street love to play. Life will cease to be so risky. So they say, Some day.

SAFE CITY MILK SUPPLY.

One Way to Solve This Important Problem.

Had condition of a city's milk supply can be greatly and quickly improved and the co-operation of producers secured by a United, energetic health officer. Omaha has such a man in Claud Bossey, who has achieved really remarkable results in cleaning up the dairies and rendering the milk supply of that city safe.

An impressive example is here found of what sympathetic co-operation between the health department of a city and the farmers who produce that city's milk can accomplish under conditions ranging from indifference to bad, says a contributor to Farm and Home. Dairy conditions in Omaha have been changed in the last three years until the excellence of their product and the generally sanitary conditions under which it is produced has attracted the attention and commendation of some of the greatest sanitarians in the United States.

Compared with the problems of milk supply with larger cities are confronted, the situation in Omaha and cities of similar population is comparatively simple. The relatively small number of dairy farms operation in that vicinity make it possible for the health department to have personal and frequent supervision over each. In this way the requirements are more easily put into force and kept effective, and a closer touch maintained.

HANDSOME HOME-MADE RUGS.
Possible Effects Are Infinite in Variety.

With a growing appreciation of the convenience of the color scheme that can be easily removed and cleaned, and therefore more sanitary, rugs have supplanted the old-fashioned "fitted carpets"—so toilsome to lay, to take up, and to clean, and to keep clean, says a Farm and Home expert.

Once upon a time carpets or rugs made of rags were called "rag carpets," but now, bless you, they are "colonial rugs." To be sure, with the change of name there came a change of color scheme, and some other improvements, but they're made of rags all the same.

When you are going to have a rug woven into the "hit-and-miss" design, it is all right to sew the rag strips together irrespective of color scheme. But that is well away from the subject at hand. It is all right to alternate a light with a dark colored piece. Sometimes these hit-and-miss designs are improved by a dark border at either end and a row of light-colored stripes in the center.

Colors used—dark red, green or brown, whichever color predominates in the hit-and-miss. These are nice for dining and sitting rooms.

GASOLINE ENGINE TROUBLE.

Many Possible Causes for Overheating. Overheating of a gasoline engine may be due to one of the following causes:

Shifting of the timing device, causing late ignition.

Exhaust valve not opening far enough to allow a clear escape of the gas.

Water jacket coated with a deposit of lime or other residue deposited when water evaporates in hopper or engine cylinder.

Boiling Water Harmless. Some engine users are of the opinion that when the water in an open hopper boils, it causes injury to the cylinder, due to overheating, says the editor of Farm and Home. This is an erroneous impression because water boils at 212 degrees, and as long as there remains sufficient water to cover the cylinder no damage will result. The trouble occurs when the water is entirely gone and the expansion of the piston (which is lost) makes it entirely fill up the cylinder bore and cling to and cut the walls of the same. Keeping the hopper full or replenishing it as the water evaporates will save trouble.

If the water jacket is coated with a deposit clean out as much as possible with a crowbar or chisel if the engine head can be easily removed, or if not a solution of acid to cut out the deposit. For this purpose a mixture of one part water and two parts muriatic acid should be left in the cylinder over night or over Sunday and then drained out.

If the sediment is of a lime nature it will be all cut out by this process.

Place for Brighter Color.
For bedrooms and bathrooms lighter colors are preferred—white and green, blue and cream, or light gray, or rose color—in any case to match the color scheme of the room. Before cutting up and piecing these rags, the white ones should be washed, and the others dyed to the desired shade. Never make the mistake of trying to dye a light color over a dark one, or try to dye dirty or greasy rags, for the dye simply will not take.

Also, remember that cotton and wool require different dyes. Buy a reliable dye, and follow directions on package, and you will have no trouble.

No Place for Prayer.
A Chicago woman was arrested the other day charged with praying too loud. This recalls the story of the verger in Westminster Abbey who had a foreigner arrested for kneeling and praying in the main aisle of the building.

"But," said the judge, "why do you object to the man's devotional act?"

The verger was amazed.

"Why, your honor," he stammered, "if I didn't make an example of this man people would be praying all over the place!"

GOOD HEALTH.

Is reflected in person who couple a careful, wholesome diet with the moderate use of an invigorating, healthful food beverage like

GRAND RAPIDS BEER.

The ruddy good nature manifest in those who indulge in an occasional good glass of beer, like Grand Rapids Beer, is proverbial. They are good natured because they have gained strength, health and vigor from its use.

In a striking contrast are the pessimistic coffee or tea drinkers and the optimistic beer drinker.

Try our beer. It is the acme of healthful liquid refreshments.

FIGS IN THE NORTH.

The cultivation of the fig is possible much farther north than a great many imagine. For many years I went to Newburg, N. Y., and during September and October I had a dish of ripe figs on the table. I asked how he managed to get them and he said at the first appearance of cold weather he pegs down every limb, and then puts a little straw over them. In the spring after danger of frost is over, he lets them come up. He thus obtains a nice crop of figs. Others have tried the same thing in New York and they now have ripe figs where figs were never seen before. Mr. Newman of Washington, who wrote a pamphlet on the cultivation of figs in the north advocates the same thing. —Farm and Home.

office on Saturday. Mr. Zeaman reports that he will be a candidate for chairman of his town at the coming spring election.

Garret Keel, 15 years old, broke the alley record at Watertown last week and obtained the highest honors in the game by bowling a perfect score of 300. This is the first time a perfect score has been rolled on the Watertown alleys.

The building for the New Citizens

It is reported that the Heinz pickle company will establish a salting station at Vesper during the coming summer, provided the farmers in that section take enough interest in the matter to make it a paying proposition. Representatives of the com-and held a meeting and the indications are that it will be a go.

house this summer. Mr. Strauss reports that the building will be of good size and equipped with gymnasium, shower baths, swimming pool and bowling alleys, and will cost about $25,000 including the site.

The mild weather that started in on Saturday made the sleighing in this section look like a lead nickel with a hole in it. Many farmers who came to town that morning with loads of wood or other produce and tried to cross the bridge were compelled to employ two or three teams to get over.
It is said that Wisconsin experiences a winter with so little cold weather and sleighing as the one just past.

The officers of the Marshfield Fair Association have fixed their dates for this year's fair as the last week in August, 26, 27, 28 and 29. As a result of these dates they were compelled to withdraw from the circuit, but if they had not done so, they would have had to hold their fair considerably earlier, or else very much later, neither of which they cared to do.

A contest to pick the champion speller of Wisconsin will be staged at the state fair at Milwaukee. The boy or girl who wins in the school district contest will enter the town contest, the winner of which in turn will go to the county competition, and the county's winner will compete at the state "bee" on the state fairgrounds. It is expected, according to Secretary J. C.
MacKenzie, that fully fifty counties of Wisconsin will participate. The state board will pay the railroad and hotel expenses of the county representatives.

The proprietors of the Grand Theater have quietly departed from the city and the result is that that once busy place of amusement is now as quiet as a bear garden on a Monday morning.
This play house has had a rather checkered career, although the checks have not at any time been either large or plentiful. It has changed hands on numerous occasions, but each succeeding proprietor has done just a little worse than his predecessor.
No doubt somebody with a little capital and an ambition to make his fortune in the picture business will bob up to tackle the proposition later on.

FOR SALE—A fine Segeström piano penter and is well pleased with his new location.

The Lyric Opera Company, which showed four nights at Daly's Theatre, put up some pretty good shows, and those who heard them were greatly pleased with their work. The members had good voices, and there was enough comedy in their work so that the audience was amused from start to finish.

John Roberts, who for some time past has been employed in the law office of D. D. Conway, has been recalled upon to take the law for justice of the peace at the coming spring election. Mr. Roberts is a lawyer by profession and is well qualified for the position, and if elected will no doubt make a good officer.

Emiel Kelp of the town of Hansen, brought in a large wolf hide last week to collect his bounty from the county clerk. The animal was killed on the Hemlock in the town of Hansen, and was almost black. In fact it had been taken for a black fox by some of the farmers who had seen it in the woods the past winter. So far this makes about a dozen wolves that have been killed in that locality this winter.

sidered a very important one during to schools, notice is hereby given that the annual school meeting of Grand Rapids district 1, to elect commission-

Have You Registered?

The attention of the legal voters in the city is again called to the fact that if they wish to vote at the spring election, without being subjected to the inconvenience and annoyance of having to "swear in their vote," they will have to go to the polling places in their respective precincts and have their names enrolled on the registry list.

The boards of registry will be in session again March 25. Their meetings will open at 9 o'clock in the forenoon and close at 3 o'clock in the evening.

The fact that only full citizens of the United States who have resided in this state for one year next preceding the election, and ten days in the election district where they propose to vote are entitled to be registered has heretofore been fully set forth and does not need to be repeated here.

As to minors, however, the law provides that "any person who is not twenty-one years of age before the date when registry is required to be corrected, but will be if he lives until the day of election, shall have his name put on the registry if he is otherwise qualified to be an elector."

Electors in the city do not vote for county superintendent of schools, but in the towns and villages of the county "every woman who is a citizen of this state, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who has been a resident in the state one year and in the election district ten days preceding the election," may vote for county superintendent and also for state superintendent.

No person who has been convicted of treason or felony, unless restored to civil rights, is entitled to vote at any election. A felony is a crime the penalty for which is imprisonment in the state prison and a person who has been sentenced to the state prison can only be restored to his civil rights by the governor of the state.

"No person who is interested, directly or indirectly, in any bet or wager depending upon the result of any election at which he shall appear to vote, shall not be permitted to vote at such election."

NEWS ITEMS FROM NEARBY PLACES.

Car Load of Elks.—A car load of live Elks passed through Portage on Thursday afternoon. There were twenty-five in the herd and they were sent to Hot Springs, Virginia. The animals attracted much attention while the car stood in the Portage yard and Yardmaster Bloomfield, says the Portage Democrat, promptly phoned Excelsior Ruler O. A. Klenert of Portage, Minn., to get the Elks. The Elks were sent to the Portage yard and the Elks were sent to the Portage yard and the Elks were sent to the Portage yard.

Gored by a Bull.—A peculiar accident occurred at the Gust Gronemeyer place last Saturday night. During the night the two year old bull broke loose and hooked a cow so she had to be killed next day; killed a nine months old colt by ripping the neck artery, and so badly injured the gray horse that it was usually very docile and had never shown any signs of ugliness and in the morning was found in his usual place in the stable, as peaceful as ever, but Mr. Gronemeyer decided not to take any more chances but had its horns cut off and a ring put in its nose.—Vesper Pioneer.

Had Skull Fractured.—On Monday P. W. Kilmt, a tailor of Adams, had his skull fractured, while in an altercation with Mr. and Mrs. James Tichna of that village. It is reported that Kilmt has been living in a part of Tichna's house the past winter, and for several months has failed to pay any rent, which has led to numerous rows between Kilmt and the Tichnas. On Monday Mrs. Kilmt was scuffling in front of the house over the possession of a gun, which it is said Mrs. Tichna was trying to shoot Kilmt with, when Tichna came upon the scene and promptly put Kilmt out of commission by striking him on the head with a brick, fracturing the skull, and knocking him unconscious. Dr. Treadwell was called to attend the injured man, and he was taken to a hospital in Milwaukee where at last reports he was gaining and had a fair chance to recover. Tichna was arrested, and taken to the Milwaukee jail, where he is held on $1000 bail, before specific charges will be preferred against him.

Will Ship Trout Fry.—The annual shipment of trout fry from the Wild Rose state fish hatchery will begin next week, according to advice received direct from St. Nevin of the fish commission. Discussing the matter of the infection of the fish ponds by the copepods, which has been given publicity in the biennial report of the commission, Mr. Nevin says, and asks us to emphasize the same, that in the shipment of this fry there is no chance for carrying this infection to other waters, as the water in the hatchery building where the eggs are hatched, and in which the fry will be shipped, does not come from or thru the ponds, but is brought direct to the building through pipes, from a spring, and is therefore free from any possible infection of this fish microbe. The process for overcoming this difficulty is well under way, and success in its final eradication, seems assured.—Wild Rose Times.

Bergeron are Chicago visitors this week. Alfred Guy is on the sick list again. Dr. F. K. Pomerville was called last night by a patient. YOU FARMERS WHO PLAN TO BUY CREAM SEPARATORS THIS SPRING

won in an open contest in which all separators were allowed to enter, embracing fifty consecutive runs, lasting over thirty days and covering milk from ten different breeds.

You would not expect to buy the best cow in a herd for the same price as the poorest cow. Neither would you sell your most productive cow. So it is with the United States Cream Separator.

The United States Cream Separator won the Grand Prize (highest award) at Seattle, 1909, the Gold Medal at the California State Fair, 1911, the only award on cream separators at the Utah State Fair, 1912; while the dairy products of the U. S. not only won the Gold Medal at the National Dairy Show, Chicago, October 24—November 2, 1912, but have been awarded other Gold Medals, Silver cups, and First Prizes without number.

The daily work of the United States Cream Separator in the agricultural colleges and on hundreds of thousands of farms backs up its reputation as the closest skimming cream separator:

Prof. Haecker, of Minnesota Agricultural College, says:
St. Anthony Park, Minn., Jan. 16, 1912.
We have used the United States Cream Separator at the Minnesota Dairy School of Agriculture for more than fifteen years, and we have always found them to be standard machines, not only doing first-class work, but very durable and rarely requiring repairs.
T. L. HAECKER,
Professor of Dairy Husbandry, in charge.

Professor Mortensen, of Iowa State College, says:
Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa, Feb. 12, 1912
We have operated one of the Interlocking Style and are pleased to inform you that we consider it to be a high class machine. It is operated with ease and is close skimmer. It has in every respect given good satisfaction.
M. MORTENSEN,
Professor of Dairying.

Price $25 and upward According to Capacity.

Old separators of all makes taken in part payment.

The 1913 model U. S. is Operated with HALF THE POWER of Older Models

Important improvements have made the 1913 model United States Separator one of the lightest running cream separators made.

The skimming area of the U. S. skimming device has been nearly doubled enabling the latest models to skim practically twice as fast. This double capacity of the bowl has permitted the reduction of the bowl diameter nearly one-half without reducing the capacity. The bowl in the 1913 model United States is one of the smallest as well as easiest running used in separators.

Improved gear construction. The angle of the gear teeth determines the effectiveness of the power applied at the crank. A new slant in the gear teeth enables all the power applied on the crank to be used in turning the bowl. The weight of the handle alone starts the U. S. Separator.

Bear in mind that not only can any child or woman easily do the skimming with the light running United States Separator, but that this quality is wholly due to improved construction and in no way to a weakening of its famous wearing qualities.

Ex-President National Dairy Show.
I do not see how one could get a better separator than the "United States" if they all work as this one does. I am satisfied with it in every respect and take pleasure in recommending it to my friends.
COLON C. LILLIE,
Little Farmstead, Coopersville, Wis.
"Easiest Running Machine There Is."
I purchased a 1913 model United States Cream Separator of Banta Bros. and Company a few months ago, and it is the easiest running machine there is. The new bowl has the best skimming device made. I will further state that the new U. S. Separator can be cleaned half the time needed to wash any other separator.
MRS. FRANK LOSCHER, Washburn, Minn.

Landing Wisconsin Farmer says:
I am separating the milk from thirty-six cows with one of your No. 14 Interlocking Separators and am very well pleased with the work it is doing. One thing that I am especially well pleased with, is that it will separate its rated capacity, do good work and produce a uniform density of cream. It is very simple to operate and one of the easiest separators to wash and keep clean there is on the market. I certainly recommend the Interlocking Separator to any prospective purchaser.
T. E. ANDERSON,
Tomah, Wis.

Make more money You are going to run some separator twice a day. If it does not skim clean you are not making all the money that actually belongs to you. If it is hard to run or difficult to wash you are doing unnecessary work for which you are getting absolutely no return either in money or satisfaction.

Free offer Before buying any separator why not take up with our FREE offer to give you a practical demonstration of 1913 model United States Cream Separator right at your home and personally try out our claims?

Remember this demonstration costs you nothing, carries no obligation to buy and is offered to get you acquainted with the big 1913 improvements in the U. S. Simply fill out and mail the coupon. Now is the time.
